

Section 83(1) of the Employment and Assistance Regulation states that a panel chair may be remunerated per appeal:

- (a) $225, or
- (b) $450 if the Tribunal Chair determines the appeal is extraordinarily complex and requires an extraordinary amount of time to prepare for, hear and provide written reasons.

In order for the Tribunal Chair to determine if the increased remuneration applies, the panel chair must complete part A of this form and submit it with their draft decision.

Requests must be submitted on or before the date the decision is accepted. Late submissions will not be assessed.
